

Digatrade Activates Securter App Development with Exilion Technologies Inc.

ACCESSWIRE – February 18, 2020

Vancouver, British Columbia / ACCESSWIRE / February 18, 2020 - DIGATRADE FINANCIAL CORP (OTCPK: DIGAF), www.DigatradeFinancial.com a financial technology services company, and its subsidiary Securter Systems Inc., have today announced a development agreement with Exilion Technologies Inc. based in Ontario, Canada.

The terms of the agreement which include an immediate start-date; are the initial analysis, development of technical architecture and prototyping. Further development will include the merchant onboarding website, secure transaction management backend, mobile application, and administration tools. The development scope result will be a working version of the Securter Systems patent pending software application that achieves the goal of our product.

The project engineering lead is Michael Shmulevich, CEO of Exilion Technologies. Mr. Shmulevich is a well-known technology fintech designer and systems strategist. He has vast experience guiding both start-ups and senior corporate planners. Mr. Shmulevich has held top technical management positions at several leading technology companies, and on May 29, 2019, he was appointed as Securter's Vice-President of Engineering.

In recent years, Mr. Shmulevich was involved in producing software architecture and managing software development for a number of increasingly sophisticated financial technology projects that required world-class expertise in trading, risk management, blockchain and cryptocurrency solutions. His engineering leadership will contribute to Securter's ambitious patent strategy, namely, to build upon current patent pending holdings with additional strategic patent filings.

Further information will be made available as it materializes.
